Anita Shreve, author of A Change in Altitude is one of my all time favorite authors. This captivating novel is about an American couple whose lives dramatically change when they move to Nairobi, and in particular during their ascent to Mount Kenya. A Change in Altitude illuminates the inner landscape of a couple, the irrevocable impact of tragedy, and the elusive nature of forgiveness. With stunning language and striking emotional intensity, Anita Shreve transports us to the exotic panoramas of Africa and into the core of our most intimate relationships. Patrick and Margaret, the central characters in Anita Shreve's latest novel, are newly-wed American expatriates living, as Shreve herself did for three years, in Kenya where Patrick, a doctor ... As critical categories, both "literary fiction" and "commercial women's fiction" are extremely unsatisfactory. Yet we more or less know what is meant by them, and they are the terms used by ...
