Certified instructors at American Firearms School teach firearms training courses that teach all levels of shooters the proper techniques for safely handling a firearm. Finishing a lower requires a milling machine or drill press, a fixture if you choose the drill press method, some drills and end mills and very basic machine skills. There's a lot of AR-15 barrel manufacturers out there. Even if you have some idea of which to go with...you also have to decide which specific barrel. Whether you're doing a new build or swapping out a worn one...your barrel isn't something where you cut corners. We've built a lot of AR
