D. Anthony Storm's Commentary on Kierkegaard Fourth Period: A Prelude to The Second Authorship (1846-48) Upbuilding Discourses In Various Spirits A–D. Armed Neutrality, and An Open Letter; with relevant selections from his journals and papers. trans. Howard V. Hong and Edna H. Hong with background essay and commentary by Gregor Malantschuk. Leveling is a social process in which the uniqueness of the individual is rendered non-existent by assigning equal value to all aspects of human endeavors, thus missing all the intricacies and subtle complexities of human identity. Leveling is highly associated with existential philosopher Søren Kierkegaard. Born to a prosperous Danish family and educated at Copenhagen, Søren Kierkegaard deliberately fostered his public reputation as a frivolous, witty conversationalist while suffering privately from severe melancholy and depression.
