The Caribbean (also known as the West Indies) is a region of the Americas consisting of the Caribbean Sea, its islands, and the surrounding coasts. Part of Facts On File's Encyclopedia of American Ethnic Literature series, this volume focuses on the major works, notable authors, and essential concepts and movements in Hispanic American literature. The history of the Caribbean reveals the significant role the region played in the colonial struggles of the European powers since the 15th century. African literature is literature of or from Africa. As George Joseph notes in his chapter on African literature in Understanding Contemporary Africa, whereas European views of literature often stressed a separation of art and content, African awareness is inclusive:
