The FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) is the big, bad form that most colleges in the US use as a basis for financial aid. One of the key points of a the FAFSA is that if you are under 24 years old, you're pretty much required to include the financial information of one (or both) parents. Ah, deadlines. The sworn enemy of students across the nation. When you're busy with classes, extracurricular activities, and a social life in whatever time you've got left, it's easy to lose track and let due dates start whooshing by. FinAid, The SmartStudent Guide to Financial Aid, is the most comprehensive free resource for objective and unbiased information, advice and tools about student financial aid, college scholarships and education loans. Yes. Submit your application as soon as you have completed all the sections, sent recommendation requests to your recommenders, and requested that your official scores be sent to Duke.
