The following is a family tree of the Emperors of Japan, from the legendary Emperor Jimmu to the present day. Modern scholars have come to question the existence of at least the first nine Emperors; Kōgen's descendant, Emperor Sujin (98 BC – 30 BC?), is the first for which many agree that he might have actually existed. These monarchs are ... For a more complete list, see Complete list of Japanese eras. Japan started using the Gregorian calendar, the calendar used in most of the world, in Meiji 6, replacing a lunisolar calendar.
