The Red Rose of Lancaster is the county flower of Lancashire, and a common symbol for the county. Pre-Order Lancashire Magazine 2019 . Packed full of places to stay, things to do, places to eat and pages of events listings. After the lads from South Lancashire had such a great holiday in Cape Town, a break from the intense football season in Britain, a couple of them decided to do some further exploring whilst on the African continent. The Lancashire dialect and accent (Lanky) refers to the Northern English vernacular speech of the English county of Lancashire. Simon Elmes' book Talking for Britain said that Lancashire dialect is now much less common than it once was, but it is not quite extinct, still spoken by the older population.
