

Download Medical Technology Assessment Directory

The programme will be delivered by academic staff from NUI Galway and It Sligo, with expertise in Regulatory Affairs, with guest lectures and workshops involving Regulatory Affairs experts from the Medical technology industry sector. As a New York state employee, you are eligible to access resources from the New York State Library, including BioOne, JSTOR, and PsycInfo. To access these resources, you must first register with the state library to gain remote access. ECRI Institute provides broad access to medical technology assessment information and research results so that your conclusions about medical devices, drugs, and procedures can be drawn from the most comprehensive pool of findings available. Conemaugh School of Medical Technology. Conemaugh School of Medical Technology is committed to providing comprehensive education for medical technologists who perform scientific tests in the Department of Laboratory Medicine to help in diagnosis and prognostic aspects of disease.