Sumer (/ ˈ s uː m ˈ r /) is the earliest known civilization in the historical region of southern Mesopotamia, modern-day southern Iraq, during the Chalcolithic and Early Bronze ages, and one of the first civilizations in the world along with Ancient Egypt and the Indus Valley. The origin of primitive writing systems. As a natural process of renovation of world civilizations, ice ages come. Blanketing most of the Southern and Northern Hemispheres of the earth planet with trillions of tons of ice for millions of years they bury and destroy all the civilizations in its area. This is a textbook-style book, but it still reads pretty easily. I'm no scholar of history, but have a casual interest. Given my limited experience, I feel this is a great introduction to the early civilizations of the Near East (Mesopotamia, Egypt, Assyria, and Babylon), which is nice since I've had a difficult time finding a book that ...
