Sharpe's Gold is the ninth historical novel in the Richard Sharpe series by Bernard Cornwell first published in 1981. The story is set in August 1810 and features the destruction of Almeida during the Peninsular War. Sharpe's Gold starts off much quicker than the first published book and quickly finds its groove. The pace of the book was good and held my interest all the way to the end. I think it is better than Sharpe's Eagle which was also a good book. Richard Sharpe (chronological order) Series. 21 primary works • 38 total works. Cornwell's series charts Richard Sharpe's progress in the British Army during the Napoleonic Wars.
