Margaret Ferguson

Margaret Ferguson (Ph.D. Yale University) is Professor of English and Comparative Literature at the University of California, Davis. She is author of Dido's Daughters: Literacy, Gender, and Empire in Early Modern England and France (2003) and Trials of Desire: Renaissance Defenses of Poetry (1984). Poetry (the term derives from a variant of the Greek term, poiesis, "making") is a form of literature that uses aesthetic and rhythmic qualities of language—such as phonaesthetics, sound symbolism, and metre—to evoke meanings in addition to, or in place of, the prosaic ostensible meaning. Literary authors, collections of writings, literary criticism, and other related information can be found in both our circulating and reference collections at Middletown Thrall Library. The Los Angeles Times Festival of Books is the largest book festival in the country. The festival will be held April 21 - 22, 2018 at USC and feature celebrities, famous authors, music, film, comic books, cooking demos and more.
