The Shadow Society begins on a very clichéd note: hot new guy who our protagonist is immediately attracted to, who invades all her thoughts, and seems to be enchanted by her--the plain Jane. How can you find your place in the world if you don't know what world you're from? Darcy Jones doesn't remember anything before the day she was abandoned as a child outside a Chicago firehouse. There was a boy standing in the shadow of an oak tree. His stance seemed easy, even lazy. But his expression was electric, tense, taut as a corded wire I could tightrope-walk across. His stance seemed easy, even lazy. Marie Rutkoski is the New York Times bestselling author of several books for children and young adults, including The Kronos Chronicles (a trilogy that begins with The Cabinet of Wonders), The Shadow Society, and The Winner's Trilogy (which begins with The Winner's Curse).
